

The Dangers (BUT FUN!) of Creating Signs for STEM

* Supplemental Assignment

By Johanna Lucht

Accessible Transcript Here

Youtube link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8pZowlqsAn8&feature=youtu.be>

Johanna Lucht is an electronic engineer, who happened to be Deaf (and smart aleck), working at NASA Armstrong Flight Research Center. She graduated from University of Minnesota - Twin Cities with BS (clean version) in Computer Science in May 2014. She is chilling in SoCal playing video games, chatting with friends, a bit of gardening, sewing quilts, acclimating to the desert, and several more.

Contact: luch0043@umn.edu

Not an MRID Member?

We still want you to join the conversation! Click here to complete a "Non-Member Registration Form" and have your voice heard!

*Anyone is invited to join the discussion and comment on EIP's Blogs and Forums. If you are a current MRID Member, click on the link below ("Comments") and you will be prompted to login and proceed to comment. If you are not a current MRID Member, you will need to complete a registration form. Click here.